MAY RESTORE PEACE LIGHT AT JAMBOREE

Plans are underway to restore the light on the Eternal Light Peace Memorial replica at the National Boy Scout Jamboree at Valley Forge.

Crosby N. Hartzell, general chairman of the Exchange Club committee which constructed the light and moved it to Valley Forge, said this morning a 110 volt self-contained generator and wiring has been secured. It was hoped to obtain a flame shaped figure and a cluster of three yellow light bulbs to put within it, to place on top of the memorial. If the articles can be obtained the materials will be moved to Valley Forge and installed Tuesday.

The peace light replica originally had a gas burner but that flame was banned when it set fire to the top of the model.

Scouts in Section 33 at Valley Forge, the York-Adams area, were enthusiastic Sunday concerning plans to replace the light. They are camped on land where General Poor's New England troops camped in 1776.

Patrick H. Roth, of Explorer Post 78 of Gettysburg, one of the Black Walnut district representatives at the Jamboree, reported Sunday:

Present Site
"Barry Fair, Gettysburg R. 4, patrol leader for our patrol, is doing a very good job. We have mostly Black Walnut District scouts in our patrol, Barry; Barclay Collins of Gettysburg, who is assistant patrol leader; Steven Schmidt, Gettysburg R. 4; Crosby Hartzell Jr. of Gettysburg; myself; Ralph Andrews of Gettysburg R. 2 and two others, Rodney Brenneman of Red Lion and David Schnell, of Glen Rock."

"We put on a skit for a sectional campfire Sunday night and we at least got a laugh out of it. The other boys were polite and laughed too."

"Trading still goes on like mad. One of the best trading items now are Camp Tuckahoe patches. The patches are in seven colors and that's more than most. There is one patch from New England which has 14 colors and they want the shirt off your back for that."

"Everybody is working on the Adventure badge that we can earn by doing a lot of things here. Among the things that have to be done is to obtain the signatures of scouts from at least ten other states. Nelson Freeman, of Littleton, has 14 autographs so far, including one from Nottingham, England, of which he is real proud."

Firemen Answer 2 Calls Saturday

Gettysburg firemen were called out twice to vehicle fires Saturday afternoon.

At 1:05 o'clock they extinguished a blaze in a truck along the Harrisburg Rd. north of town. Damage was slight.

Officer Saves Life Of Baby

BINGHAMTON, N. Y. (AP)—A screaming mother dangled her 17-month-old daughter out of a fourth-floor window yesterday, then let go. A patrolman lunged forward and caught the child by one leg. "It was a lucky grab," said Patrolman Larry W. Schanz after it was all over.

The mother, identified as Louise Pepper, 23, formerly of Sayre, Pa., was committed to Binghamton State Hospital for mental examination. Sgt. Robert E. Forbes said he tackled the woman as she attempted to jump from the window herself, minutes after her baby was saved.

The child, Wanda, apparently was not injured.

YOUTH JAILED FOR $500 BAIL IN BLAST CASE

William F. Dearing, 17-year-old Breckenridge St. youth, entered an innocent plea to a charge of pointing and discharging a firearm this morning when his case was certified from juvenile to common pleas court.

Dearing is accused of firing a shotgun into a group of people at the corner of S. Franklin St. and W. High St. early on the morning of June 29.

The youth told the court this morning that the gun was aimed at the ground, that it discharged accidentally and the five persons wounded as a result were hit by ricocheting pellets.

Jailed For Bail
As a result of his statement, he was ordered held by the sheriff until he can raise $500 bail to appear before the August term of court when the charge will be submitted to the grand jury.

Borough police, at the time of the shooting said they had been called earlier to W. High St. where an "argument" was going on, and that they "broke up the argument." They held that Dearing was one of those in the earlier "rumpus."

Later, they said Dearing reappeared on the scene with a shotgun and when it discharged three men and two women were struck by pellets. Treated at the hospital here were Jose Vega Gandia, 39, and Rafael Fontanez, 30, both of S. Washington St., and Diane Norman, 18, and Patricia Portune, 19, both of Chambersburg. Antonio Mojica, 25, S. Washington St., received a shotgun pellet in the hand but did not require treatment. The other two men had pellets in the front of their bodies while the young women were struck in the legs.

Find Bullet-Pierced Body In Tiny Tin Trunk In N.Y.

NEW YORK (AP)—A bullet-pierced body found squeezed into a tiny tin trunk was identified last night as that of a Philadelphian who came here three weeks ago to look for a job.

The murdered man's fingerprints led police to identify him as James F. Malloy, 53. They said he was fingerprinted when he applied for a job as a painter at the Philadelphia Navy Yard in 1942.

Since then he had rented a room off and on from Oscar Schaeffer of Philadelphia. He came here three weeks ago to hunt for a job and rented another room.

Schaeffer told police Malloy was "quiet, unassuming and perfect gentleman" and used the room about once a month. He kept a painter's ladder in the room and usually wore work clothes, Schaeffer said.

Was Seen Friday
A doorman at the New York building where Malloy rented a room said he had seen the man alive Friday night.

Earlier, police reported that the man was shot three times with a .22-caliber weapon. They said he was "probably" still alive when he was jackknifed into the trunk.

The crime was discovered Saturday night when a clerk noticed an odor coming from a trunk on a Railway Express agency platform on Manhattan's West Side. Police pried the trunk open and found the body.

PRESIDENT OFF IN HELICOPTER FOR HIDEAWAY

President Eisenhower took off in a helicopter from his nearby farm at 8:30 o'clock this morning to resume participation in the nationwide civil defense alert. He flew to an unannounced "hideaway" from where he will direct the nation's affairs.

Despite the secrecy surrounding the President's movements, a number of town residents and tourists were at the 60-foot steel tower on Confederate Avenue, on the Battlefield, long before the President departed. They were eager to catch a glimpse of the Chief Executive taking off in a 'copter.

The tower, which affords a "close" view of the farm buildings, had been closed by park officials over the weekend as has been the custom since the President and Mrs. Eisenhower started spending weekends here. Many tourists were at the tower before 6 o'clock this morning and left when they found the shaft closed. However, others arrived later and remained until the President left.

Gate Is Unlocked
Shortly before 8 o'clock a park ranger unlocked the gate and a dozen or more of the curious climbed the steps to get a "long distance" view of the field from where the two helicopters were to take off. A third 'copter took off from the local airport a half hour or more before the President left.

Other residents and tourists watched the take-off from the wire fence at the edge of the avenue. The reporters and photographers who accompanied the President on his weekend here included the following: Murwin Armistead, AP; Ernest C. Belete Jr., CBS News; Frank C. Cancellare, UP; Peter Chew, Time Inc.; Thomas J. Craven Jr., Movietone News; John Edwards, ABC; Robert G. Nixon, INS; Arnold Sachs, Int. News Photos; William J. Smith, AP photos; Bill Smythe, Movietone News; Charles Von Fremd, CBS News; Pat Wiggins, UP; (Continued On Page 2)

MISS SHERMAN ARRIVES HOME

Miss Jo Ann Sherman, 21-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mares Sherman, E. Broadway, returned to her home Saturday midnight. Although still requiring medical treatment, she is reported in good spirits.

The Gettysburg College senior suffered a broken jaw and a foot dislocation July 3 in Frankfurt, Germany, when a car in which she was a passenger collided with another vehicle. She was on a tour of Europe with a group of persons under the direction of Dr. Albert Bachman, of Gettysburg College faculty.

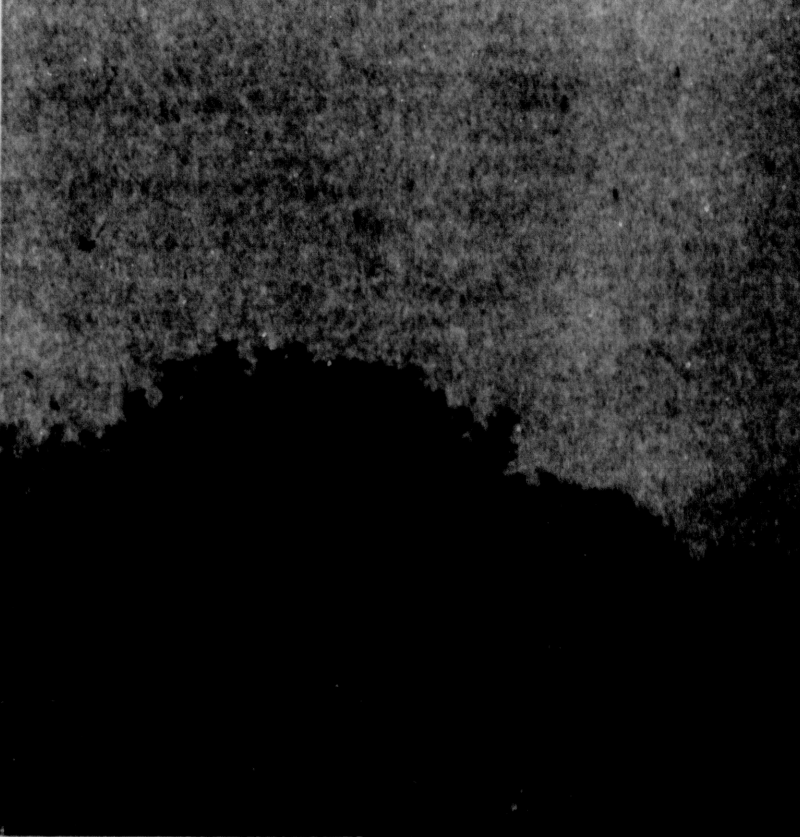

She was admitted as a patient at an Army hospital in Frankfurt and then flown to McGuire Air Force Base near Trenton, N. J., by MATS ambulance plane, arriving at 4:05 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Following a checkup at the Fort Dix Army hospital she was released to her parents who with William "Bud" Cole had driven to the Air Force base for her.

Further treatment for her injuries will be given by physicians here.

Eisenhower First To Use Helicopter In Alert Test

President Eisenhower is shown airborne this morning over his Gettysburg farm enroute to a secret hideout during the nationwide "Operation Alert." He had flown here, also by 'copter, Saturday morning and rested over the weekend with Mrs. Eisenhower and three of their four grandchildren, David, Barbara and Susan. The latter four remained at the farm today. (AP Photo)

THREE YOUTHS GIVEN TERMS IN COUNTY THEFTS

The Adams County court this morning, noting that "there has been a regular epidemic of these burglaries and it is not our intention to be lenient," sentenced Joseph Paul Barder Jr., 20, Aspers R. 1, to from 11 to 23 months in the Allegheny County Workhouse and James Champlain, 17, Gettysburg R. 3, to an indeterminate sentence in the Pennsylvania Industrial School at White Hill.

Both had been charged with burglary and larceny in connection with the theft of guns and shells from the Paul Wagner Esso Service Station in Biglerville June 19.

Originally it had been reported to police that nine rifles, a shot gun and ammunition had been stolen. Barder claimed in court this morning that the five weapons and three boxes of shells had been recovered from the two youths were all they had stolen.

Expected Suspended Sentence
Barder said he did not know why he and Champlain had broken into the service station and stolen the guns. He added, "We were just running around." The court then asked why they went to the building before the burglary to "case it" and why Champlain wore gloves during the burglary. Sheriff Dorsey J. Schultz said Barder had told friends he expected to be with them tonight because he anticipated the court would give him a suspended sentence.

John Gebhart, 20, New Oxford R. 1, appearing before the court on a charge of burglary and larceny of the New Oxford Rod and Gun Club, was sentenced to from six to 12 months in jail beginning as of July 8, the date of his original commitment on the charge.

Sentence Is Postponed
Jeremiah McCray, 28, Talladega, Ala., itinerant worker, arrested by Freedom Twp. Constable Roscoe Shindeldecker when Shindeldecker returned to his own home and found it burglarized of watches and a constable badge, then did some sleuthing and found McCray, was not sentenced when he appeared before the court this morning.

State policeman James A. Treas said McCray's fingerprints had been sent to the FBI for checking and that "we don't know whom we are dealing with until we get word on his possible previous record."

The court indicated that McCray will get a prison sentence on the burglary and larceny charge by saying, "The prisoner will not lose any rights by waiting longer for sentence because the time he spends in jail now will be credited in imposing sentence."

Placed On Parole
Edward R. Benatti, 22, Philadelphia, who had completed 11 months of an 11 to 23 months sentence in the Allegheny County workhouse on a charge of burglary and larceny and a morals charge imposed by Adams County court, was told he would be placed on parole as soon as costs were paid. However, Sheriff Schultz holds two detainees, one from Philadelphia and one from the U. S. Marshal of the Western District of Pennsylvania, against Benatti. Both allege armed robbery.

Jack Chamberlain, 41, Seven Stars, was sentenced to 60 days in the Adams County jail on a charge of carrying a switch-blade knife and ordered to pay the costs.

Marshall A. Morningstar, 40, Adamstown, Md., school teacher, was sentenced to 30 days in the county jail on a charge of driving while under the influence of intoxicants. He was also ordered to pay $50 for the use of the county and the costs.

Jailed On Morts Count
Robert J. Shirley, 27, Gettysburg R. 3, was sentenced to three months in jail starting July 9 and ordered to pay the costs. He is accused of contributing to the delinquency of a 17-year-old girl.

Richard Creed Russell, 23, Biglerville R. 2, was sentenced to six months to 12 months in jail starting July 10 and ordered to pay the costs on a charge of larceny of a motor vehicle. He is alleged to have stolen a car from the Wagner service station in Biglerville and to have abandoned it in Winchester, Va.

He will move his family to Bar Harbor later in July.

9,345 VISITORS

According to the National Park office a total of 9,345 people visited the battlefield over the weekend. On Saturday there was a total of 4,642 including 78 in two buses and 4,564 in cars. Sunday's total of 4,703 included 195 in six buses and 4,508 others.

"DIABLO" DUD BURSTS TODAY IN ATOM TEST

ATOMIC TEST SITE, Nev. (U.P.)—The nuclear dud of two weeks ago, burst with a stunning purple hue over the Nevada desert at 4:30 a.m. today.

The explosion was the seventh of the current summer test series.

The blossom atop the cloud was surrounded by a fluorescent purple cloud which began to fade about a minute after the blast.

The stem supporting the blossom also had a new look. It was not straight, as most have been in previous shots, but bulged a little at the bottom.

25,000 Foot Mushroom
The mushroom rose swiftly to about 25,000 feet, then began to bend over and move in a westerly direction.

The cloud from the blast rose swiftly to about 30,000 feet. The portion above 15,000 feet then began heading toward southeastern Utah. The Atomic Energy Commission said the air mass probably would switch directions later and head for Wyoming.

The portion of the cloud below 15,000 feet dispersed rapidly.

Failed To Fire

The blast was roughly one-half as powerful as the atomic bombs dropped on Japan during World War II.

"Diablo" originally was scheduled to be detonated June 7, then was postponed a day. On June 28, the bomb failed to fire because of a power failure.

Several other postponements were made before the device was exploded this morning from a 500-foot steel tower.

Newsmen watched the explosion from News Nob, about 14 miles from Ground Zero. They felt a moderate shock wave.

Eight hundred military observers, 102 of them Canadians, watched the explosion from trenches about 4,400 yards from Ground Zero.

Two thousand feet from Ground Zero, a group of technicians were stationed in an underground shelter equipped with devices to measure radioactivity.

No Troop Maneuvers
There were no troop maneuvers in connection with today's shot but about 40 aircraft were aloft on crew indoctrination and cloud tracking missions.

The Atomic Energy Commission had said the blast was not expected to produce any appreciable fallout outside the firing range.

At San Francisco, observers reported the blast produced an orange-yellow glow in the sky.

At Bridgeport, Calif., 350 miles from Las Vegas, Sheriff Cecil Thornton reported that he saw the glow from the blast clearly and that the subsequent shock wave shook his house.

ABBOTT LEAVES LOU COSTELLO

HOLLYWOOD (U.P.)—Bud Abbott and Lou Costello—the funnymen who broke up audiences with the classic and confounding discussion of "who's on first?"—have broken up themselves.

Costello, the roly-poly part-farrier of the famous comedy team, said yesterday that straight man Abbott has settled down on a ranch near Santa Barbara and decided not to do any more work for awhile.

There was no fight involved in the breakup, Lou said. It's just that Abbott is getting along—he's 61 now, 10 years older than Lou—and wants to get out of the act and spend his time developing a stable of thoroughbred horses.

On Costello's agenda as a single are the lead role in a movie based on the life of the late New York Mayor Fiorello LaGuardia, a more night club appearances, and the emcee's part on a new TV quiz show.

PRESIDENT OFF

Robert C. Young, Chicago Tribune.

Lands In Clearing

Eisenhower's small blue and white "whirlybird" put down at 9:12 a.m. in a clearing in a hilltop area after a flight from his farm at Gettysburg, Pa.

The command post to which he flew is within 90 miles of Washington, D.C., but its exact location is a secret.

As he alighted Eisenhower smiled broadly and was greeted by Gordon Gray, chief of the Office of Defense Mobilization, and Lewis W. Berry, acting director of the Federal Civil Defense Administration. Gray and Berry are running this 4th annual nationwide drill.

"By golly, you sude have a good morning," the President remarked to Gray.

"Smoothest Ride"
Squinting into the bright sun, Eisenhower reported that the helicopter flight was "the smoothest ride I ever had in my life."

Eisenhower Friday became the first President ever to ride a helicopter when he led a simulated mass exodus from America's cities as mock air raid sirens screamed. In theory 166 H-bombs were dropped on 155 targets in the United States and its territories.

Eisenhower was "evacuated" directly from the White House. Today the clock was jumped hypothetically to 15 days after the attack. Purpose of this phase of the drill, to last until Friday, is to determine how a government-including would bring order out of chaos.

Going To White House

Only one H-bomb strike was supposed to have occurred. Presumably the United States hit back with such massive retaliation that the "enemy" itself was reeling and unable to launch another attack.

Eisenhower went to the command post to assess mock recovery efforts. With him were his Army, Navy and Air Force aides and his national security aide, Brig. Gen. Andrew J. Goodpastor. The President arranged to fly back to Washington by helicopter, landing on the White House lawn after a brief inspection tour. No Pickup.

Letter to the Editor

July 15, 1957
Dear Sir:

Here in America we have laws and I would like to know if there isn't just one law to stop Mr. Soffie from coming around every night between 11 and 12 o'clock to sell his ice cream. It is nice to have ice cream served at your door, but why so late, we have children and they had been used to getting to bed early until Mr. Soffie started coming around.

If Mr. Soffie has such a big route that he can't get around before midnight why can't he just come down our street every other night between 7 and 9 o'clock. I am sure he would not like to be awakened by the noise, or have his children awake and have a time to get them back to sleep. When you work hard all day in a hot factory you are tired at night and like to get some rest. If it would be once in a while that Mr. Soffie came around at midnight, but every night is just too much.

We sure wish there could be something done or Mr. Soffie would have some respect for working parents. I do hope other parents feel as we do.

GI HELD AFTER KOREAN IS SHOT

SEOUL (AP)—A U.S. Army spokesman today said Pvt. Ronald E. Fassett of Ulster, Pa., is still under "arrest status" because of the fatal shooting July 5 of a three-year-old Korean boy.

The spokesman said the soldier had recovered from a state of shock he suffered when the child, sitting on an oil pipeline, was killed by a shot from Fassett's carbine.

The Army said its investigation is continuing. The announcement of the results, originally set for today, has been delayed.

The newspaper Hankook Ilbo said the shooting seemed accidental. It quoted a Korean witness, Mrs. Kim Pong Choon, 32, as saying she believed the soldier aimed at the head of the boy, Jim Young Ho, thinking the weapon was unloaded.

Mrs. Kim said Fassett told her just after the shooting he thought there were no bullets in the carbine.

Carlisle Girl Loses Women's Golf Finals

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—Judy Bell of Wichita, Kan., down three holes to Ann Rutherford, a Penn State coed, poured on the steam Saturday to win the Women's Invitation Golf Tournament 6 and 5.

It was the ninth appearance in this tourney for the new champion who was medalist last year and runnerup three years ago. She was two under par and Miss Rutherford, from Carlisle, Pa., was five over for the regulation 31 holes played.

Miss Bell outdrove her tiny opponent consistently—by as much as 30 to 50 yards and when Miss Rutherford's iron shots started going bad after the ninth hole on the 6,167-yard par 80 Broadmoor course, it became apparent she would lose.

Up to the ninth hole the 5-1 Pennsylvanian was three up. By the 18th she was down one.

Wolfe served as ushers. A rosebud was placed on the altar in honor of Elaine Louise Seabrook, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lynville G. Seabrook, by the Women's Guild. The altar flowers were placed by Mr. and Mrs. Edgar W. Berwager and family in memory of their son and brother, George. The bulletins were given by the Berwagers in memory of George, and by Mr. and Mrs. Richard D. Sheely in honor of their ninth wedding anniversary. It was announced that the next quarterly repair fund envelopes are due next Sunday, and the trustees have set the goal at $150.

A roast beef supper, sponsored by the King's Daughters Class and the Young Men's Bible Class, will be served in the church grove next Saturday starting at 4 p.m. The public is invited to attend.

The Rev. Mr. Culbertson, missionary to Shanghai, in China, who is now on a visit to his friends in this country, will preach in the Presbyterian Church in Gettysburg on next Sabbath. An interesting discourse upon the missionary efforts in that country may be expected.

Col. Daniel Herr, proprietor of "Herr's hotel" at Harrisburg, died at that place of paralysis on the 11th inst. aged about 62 years. Mr. Herr was formerly a resident of Gettysburg.

The annual announcement of the Medical Department of Pennsylvania (Gettysburg) College for the current year has been laid on our table. We are glad to learn that the institution is in a prosperous condition, growing in popular confidence and increasing in patronage. It was founded by and is still connected with the Parent Institution of this place — all the Professional appointments etc. being made subject to the approval of the Board of Trustees located at this place. Dr. Gilbert, formerly a townsman, is at the head of the Medical Faculty.

Today's Talk

A PERSON'S WORK

A person's work influences all that he thinks and does. The worker in the forest, the fisherman, the baseball player, the office executive, the home worker, the artist, the musician and the factory worker—each in his own way is set apart with ideals, imaginings and even dreams. A person's work characterizes the worker himself.

It is a blessed thing to have found your work, and then to make it important and outstanding. That is the road to success and happiness in life. We learn from everyone and we should absorb all we can from others, for it helps to round out our life and make it significant. We should be interested in the work of others, no matter how far removed from our own, for it broadens our perspective and helps to make us all more interesting human beings.

I have always been interested in the work of the various nations. You learn so much about the individuals of each country. Each is notable for many things, and the commerce of the world is thereby knit together. Traveling opens the eyes of all. Most of us have a vague idea of other nations and noted places, but the actual seeing of them is enlivening. More and more people are traveling, largely because of the renewed interest in places and countries, and because of the rapid improvement in all carriers. We can't know too much!

Many of us like to get better acquainted with the work of others. It gives us new ideas, and stimulates our imagination. How little we dreamed that over a relatively short time the whole method of traveling would be changed! We really live in a "one world" now.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Grow Old Happily"

Just Folks

JUST ONE MORE
A pocket filled with bulbs he keeps.
A meter for the light.
Across the film a shutter leaps,
And whether day or night
He never lets you go before
He makes you stand for "just one more."

I'm very fond of camera men.
I've worked with them for years.
I know they want a picture when
Some noted man appears.
I know they'll never seek the door
Until they've asked for "just one more."

If when I die to Heaven I go,
Or worse than that my fate,
When I arrive I also know
They'll meet me at the gate
And stop me on that distant shore
And flash and plead for "just one more."

Buffalo Women Set To Take Over Town

BUFFALO, W. Va., (AP) — Buffalo housewives aided by some — not all — of their husbands are on the warpath with a full slate of female nominees against perennial male officeholders.

"All we want to do is make Buffalo a better place to live," Mrs. Warner said.

"Last time there was supposed to be an election," said Mrs. Warner, "they just got together and appointed each other."

SILLY SUN HATS EASY TO MAKE

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

Summer is the time when a girl can indulge her yen for lots of silly sun hats. They won't make a dent in her clothes budget, either, if she makes them herself from one of the many hat patterns available.

For instance, one standard pattern offers the directions for a hat for a seafaring girl. The stiffened brim shades the eyes from the glare of sun and water and extends far enough to avoid a tip-of-the-nose sunburn. Wind and rain in her hair may sound poetic but it can ruin a new hairdo. The solution is a clever scarf, attached to the brim.

Local sewing center experts tell how to make it. Only two pattern pieces are required. A quarter yard of fabric is needed for the scarf, and the brim may be made of any number of things, from vinyl plastic to straw cloth. You may make a brim by sandwiching a piece of stiff interfacing between two pieces of fabric, or you can use stiffened burlap or a plastic place mat.

Sewing on Plastic
If you are sewing on plastic, remember to baste with transparent tape, since pins leave holes which might tear. Set your machine with a long stitch and a medium needle.

Bias tape is used to form a decorative edge on the brim. The scarf part may be tied either in back or under the chin.

The pattern envelope includes three other hat styles, all easily made and all designed to be decorated with fringe, seashells or anything your fancy dictates.

Littlestown

Mrs. Luther W. Ritter and children, Robert and Shirley, Glenwyn Drive, have returned home after a vacation trip to California. The trip to the coast was made by plane and they were accompanied home from the Washington National Airport by Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Ritter and daughter, Gaynelle. Mrs. Ritter and children, with her brother and sister-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Norman E. Sharrer and family, whom they were visiting in Exeter, Calif., took a trip to Yosemite National Park, Wyo., where they were met by Mr. Ritter and children, Mary, Carl and Martha and Mrs. Ritter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Newton O. Sharrer, of town, who drove through to the coast. They are also returning home by automobile and will visit other points of interest along the route.

Mr. and Mrs. Atville C. Hawk, Paoli, spent the weekend at the home of their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Hawk and family, Prince St., and also visited with other relatives and friends in the community.

There will be a special meeting of the Littlestown Joint School Board at 8 o'clock Tuesday evening at the school. The group will discuss the proposed site for the new high school.

The Rotary district governor, Bill Kishpaugh, will attend the local club's dinner meeting Tuesday evening at 6:15 o'clock at Schott's Hotel. The club service committee, Frank E. Basehor, chairman, will be in charge.

A family night picnic will be held by the local Lions Club Thursday at 7 p.m., in the Littlestown Fish and Game Association farm grove, near town. Arrangements are in charge of Edgar A. Wolfe, Edward F. Hawk, Ralph L. Staley and James U. Bowers.

Despite New Faces Same Old Russian Threat Looms Ahead

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House, moving toward consideration of a $3,242,333,000 foreign aid authorization today, was told Russia's "lesser emphasis on violence" is due only to free world strength.

Chairman Gordon (D-Ill.) of the House Foreign Affairs Committee said in a speech prepared for opening debate on the bill: "The current shifts in the Kremlin mean new faces, but we have no basis whatever for any hope that the old Communist threat has been removed."

And he said the present Soviet leadership showed in Hungary it is still willing to use military force to gain its ends.

Pleds For Approval
Gordon made a strong plea for approval of the measure without major change and floor managers of both parties predicted it would be passed that way. But the bill faced some bitter opposition and several determined efforts at amendment.

Rep. Lawrence H. Smith (R-Wis.), a member of the Foreign Affairs Committee, said he considers the bill "dangerous" and "unnecessary."

The measure is "dangerous," he said in a prepared speech, because it "is the almost complete abdication of congressional control.... It is unnecessary because the pipelines are already jammed with far more foreign aid funds than administrators can find places to spend."

Favors One Change
Gordon said he favors one change in the bill—the elimination of a committee-added paragraph which, it was disclosed today, would bar much of the contentment aid program for Poland. It would make aid assistance provided under the bill subject to the Battle Act, which bans aid to

YELLS SCARE 2 HOLDUP MEN

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Anthony Perry, 69, thinks he has found a way to prevent holdups at his confectionery store. He just starts yelling.

Perry, who has been robbed three times in recent years, says "I work hard for my money and I get sick of these guys trying to come in here and steal it."

Saturday night "two tall young beanpoles" walked into his store wearing handkerchiefs on their faces and carrying guns.

Perry dropped to the floor behind the counter and began yelling.

"You could hear me all over town," he said later. "I hollered for help and I hollered for these guys to get out. One of them tried to stick his gun over the counter which was so filled with potato chips and pretzel bags he couldn't see me. Pretty soon I guess they got scared too, and they ran away without taking anything."

Error Corrected After 67 Years

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—History is spelling Aaron Dunkel's name right now, but it took 67 years to turn the trick.

Dunkel was Pennsylvania's secretary of internal affairs from 1879 to 1883 and he was twice a state senator.

Yet five years after he quit public office Smull's Legislative Handbook, forerunner to the Pennsylvania Manual, supposedly the last word on the state's affairs, started to spell the name "Dunkle."

The error persisted. It was compounded when a portrait of the man was hung in the capitol and the nameplate bore the same misspelling.

Not until the new edition of the manual came out recently was the mistake corrected officially.

TEXANS SWAP HORNED TOADS FOR HARD COAL

VALLEY FORGE (AP) — Texas boys swapped horned toads for hard coal lumps from Pennsylvania. Scouts from the far northern reaches of the country piled into the camp site of the Panama Canal Zone to look with fascination upon an eight-foot snake. A boy from Denmark, with a touch of awe, wondered whether a Scout from Peru could produce a shrunken head.

Thus life in this Boy Scout jamboree City covering 1,500 acres and lodging nearly 55,000 lads and leaders is getting back to normal today after a memorable weekend.

Yesterday, after religious services by various denominations, the Scouts entertained a multitude of relatives and friends. Thousands came from neighboring states.

30,000 Tour Camp

Scout officials and state police estimated that more than 30,000 toured the camp yesterday.

Today it will be back to swapping, to the overtures that so often lead to fast friendships, to hikes and trips to historical and other exhibits.

One of the most elaborate and interesting of these is a conservation display set up by Pennsylvania, New York and New Jersey with the assistance of three federal agencies.

TEXANS SWAP HORNED TOADS FOR HARD COAL

As the Scouts approach the area, their curiosity is aroused by the beckoning wand of "Conservo," a giant wooden magician. In the tent, Conservo himself, in the person of one of the staff Scouts, explains the interdependence of soil and water conservation with that of plants and forestry, fish and wildlife.

Visit Exhibits
Then the Scouts are taken on a tour of realistic exhibits where experts in various fields explain the need for conservation and its effect on their daily lives no matter where they may live.

Deer and other wild life are seen in their natural habitat. The forest rangers conduct one of the most popular exhibits. Forest fires are "set," sighted and reported by radio from three towers situated some distance apart, tracked and "extinguished."

DEER KILL UP

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Virginia hunters killed a record 20,654 deer in the 1956-57 season, 11,443 of them west of the Blue Ridge mountains where there were no deer a few years ago. The Commission of Game and Inland Fisheries says the deer herd in Virginia is still growing. Many areas permitted the killing of does to control the size of the deer herds.

Phillies Tounce Cardinals In Double-header On Sunday; Trail Leaders By Seven Points

By JACK HAND
The Associated Press
The Phillies are trying for the National League jackpot by playing "double or nothing" with the rest of the league. By winning four double-headers in the last 10 days, the 50-1 shots of opening day now are only half a game off the pace.

Snapping a losing streak July 1, the Phils have won 11 of their last 13.

Curt Simmons and Jim Hearn handled the pitching yesterday as the usually light-hitting Phils hit five home runs and beat St. Louis twice 6-2 and 11-4. Von McDaniel, the 18-year-old $50,000 bonus baby, suffered his first major league defeat in the opener and Larry Jackson, the Cards' top winner, lost the second.

Dodgers Beat Braves
Brooklyn dropped Milwaukee to third place, one game behind St. Louis, when Gil Hodges hit a two-run homer in the ninth for a 3-2 victory after successive doubles by Frank Torre and Andy Pafko had given the Braves a tie-breaking run in the top of the ninth.

Cincinnati snapped its seven-game losing streak, slugging Pittsburgh twice 9-6 and 12-4. New York outlasted Chicago 8-6 in 12 innings, winning on Willie Mays' two-run homer after Whitey Lockman's second home run of the day had tied the game in the ninth.

Just when the American League appeared on the verge of becoming a race once more, the New York Yankees turned on a six-run rally to get an even break in Chicago.

Yanks, Sox Split
The Yanks bounced back from a 4-0 deficit to a 6-4 second-game victory on a grand slam homer by pinch hitter Bill Skowron. Billy Pierce's fine five-hit pitching had won the first for Chicago 3-1.

Despite two home runs by Ted Williams, who displaced the Yanks' Mickey Mantle as the American League leader with 25, the Boston Red Sox lost two to Cleveland. Joe Altobelli's sacrifice fly with the bases loaded won the first for Bob Lemon 3-2 and the Indians clobbered Boston pitching for 20 hits to take the second 17-4 for Stan Pittula.

Detroit prepared for the Yanks' visit by knocking off Baltimore twice 10-2 and 7-6 in 10 innings. Billy Hoelt hit two homers and pitched a seven-hitter in the first game.

100-Degree Heat
Kansas City split a double with Washington in 100-degree heat.

The Phillies showed little respect for McDaniel, raking him for five runs and five hits before he left for a pinch hitter after four innings. Rip Repulski turned on his old Card mates with a three-run homer in the first inning. Ed Bouchee also homered for the Phils.

Back-to-back home runs by Joe Lonnett and Chico Fernandez and Bouchee's second of the day were key blows in the second game.

Cincinnati came from behind with six runs on eight singles in the seventh inning of the opener, winning for Hersh Freeman in relief. Ted Kluszewski hit two homers and Smokey Burgess had one among the 19 hits in the second game, in which Joe Nuxhall went all the way.

SEEKS MAJOR TENNIS TITLE

CHICAGO (AP)—Althea Gibson of New York City, the newly crowned Wimbledon champion, seeks her first major U.S. tennis title when the National City Courts Tournament opens today.

Miss Gibson, seeded No. 1, is a strong favorite to capture the title in the week-long tournament which ends Sunday. She was defeated in the semifinals last year by Shirley Fry, last year's Wimbledon champion.

Herb Flam of Beverly Hills, Calif., will seek his second straight title in the men's division. Flam also won in 1950 and is top seeded.

Behind him are Vic Seixas of Philadelphia, winner in 1953; Bernard Bartzen, the 1954 champion from Dallas; and Sam Giammalva, the power hitter from Houston.

Ranked behind Miss Gibson in the women's division are Darlene Hard, Wimbledon runner-up from Montebello, Calif.; Karol Fageros, Miami; and Lois Felix, Meriden, Conn.

Play in the men's division opens today and the women go into action tomorrow.

The league-leading Blue Ridge Summit team, held hitless for eight and one-third innings by "Skip" Fisel, rallied for three runs in the top of the ninth inning to edge Cashtown 3-2 on the latter's field in a Pen-Mar League game Sunday.

Cashtown, held to but two hits by McCrea, had a 2-0 lead going into the final frame. In the opening inning Singley walked, stole second, advanced to third on a long fly to left, and stole home. The second run came in the third frame. Robert opened with a single and went to second on a throwing error.

He moved to third on Fisel's bouncer to second and raced home on D. Roth's slow grounder to first. Fisel, who developed a blister on his pitching hand, fanned Calmer to open the fatal ninth. R. Harbaugh singled and D. Harbaugh was hit by a pitched ball. Scott singled Harbaugh home. Smedley, a pinchhitter, walked. McCrea bunted but Fisel threw wild to the plate as the tying run came over. Tracey popped out but Brown walked as Scott scored the winning tally.

Fairfield tightened its grip on third place by turning back invading Taneytown 6-2. Seferd led Taneytown to six scattered hits and fanned nine. After yielding two runs in the opening inning he blanked his opponents the remainder of the way. K. Deardorff rapped two singles to lead the winners' ninth-hit attack.

Union Bridge held to second place by nipping Emmitsburg 4-3 on the Union Bridge diamond.

TOMMY CRIST ELIMINATED IN GOLF PLAY

Tommy Crist, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Crist, Elm Ave., was unable to qualify for the finals.

Crist, who won the local Jaycee tournament here to enter for the state tourney fired creditable 43-46-89 in his 18-hole preliminary. To qualify for the final round contestants were required to shoot 80 or less.

LATROBE, Pa. (AP)—Murray Klein, 17, of Philadelphia, finished in a tie with two other golfers yesterday in the Pennsylvania Junior Chamber of Commerce Golf Championship, then went on to cop the title in a sudden death playoff.

At the end of the regulation 36 holes, Klein won 71-77-148, and Joe Baldy, 17, of Williamsport, and Joe Blake, 17, of Erie, both were 74-74-148.

Blake was eliminated on the first hole of the playoff when he shot a par four while Klein and Baldy got birdies, but Klein won with a bogey four on the difficult second hole.

John Konieczny, 16, of Scottsdale, won a playoff for fourth position over Pierce Harper, 17, of Erie, and a birth in the Jaycee national tournament at Columbus, Ohio, Aug. 19-24.

WANTS SENIOR LOOP TO KEEP N. Y. FRANCHISE

BROOKLYN (AP)—Lou Perini, owner of the Milwaukee Braves, said today he planned to institute legislation to assure the National League a franchise in New York if and when the Dodgers and Giants make good their threat to transfer their franchises to the West Coast.

Perini, who started the ball rolling by taking his Braves out of Boston four years ago, said he sympathized with the Dodgers' plight in Brooklyn and predicted the National League would be 100 per cent behind Walter O'Malley if the Dodgers' president decided to go it alone in California.

Willing To Sacrifice
"I agree with Walter that he cannot live here any longer unless something is done about a new ball park," Perini said. "Mind you I have no idea what's going to happen. But should Horace Stoneham decide to keep his Giants in New York, I'm certain the league would grant O'Malley permission to take his Dodgers to Los Angeles."

"We can't be selfish about this. O'Malley knows the Brooklyn situation better than anybody else. If he thinks it's best for his club and for the league to move to Los Angeles, then we should support him all the way even if it means an extra $25,000 in expenses for each of the visiting clubs."

What's in a name?
The cellar dwellers of the Eastern League used to be called the Syracuse Chiefs and now are known as the Allentown Chiefs. But it hasn't made much difference in their fortunes. They lost last night to their Springfield hosts 7-3.

League president Tommy Richardson announced Saturday that the league had given up its Syracuse franchise and would operate the club out of Allentown for the rest of the season.

Fan Apathy
The insuperable apathy of Syracuse fans was given as the reason. "I gave the Syracuse people 72 hours to show some interest in the club," Richardson said, "but we couldn't even get anyone to spearhead the drive as chairman."

"Allentown is a fine baseball town," he said. In other league games yesterday, Binghamton and Albany split a marathon doubleheader, the Triplets capturing the 12-inning opener, 7-6 and the visiting Senators taking the 13-inning nightcap, 5-4. At Schenectady, hurler Don Erickson led the Blue Jays to a 12-2 triumph over the Reading Indians.

In Saturday's games, Allentown beat Springfield, 6-4 and Reading downed Schenectady, 6-1. The Albany-Binghamton game was rained out.

Lore Of Valley Forge Holds Interest Of Many Boy Scouts

By RUSSELL LANDSTROM
VALLEY FORGE, Pa. (P) — In the wood-framed, comradely atmosphere of Boy Scout Jamboree campfires American scouts and their guests from a score of foreign lands share a keen interest in the lore of Valley Forge. As imaginations quicken around the fires, valiant volunteers clamor for a chance to find out whether the tales are true.

One tale, dear to every yarn-spinner in these historical parts, tells of "The Rider of the Night," a shadow man on a shadow horse. Believers say the phantom is Mad Anthony Wayne, brilliant Revolutionary War fighter, whose statue graces Valley Forge Park. It is said that the ghost rider comes bucketing up past the status. Many a midnight watch has been kept to see whether Mad Anthony's ghost really gallops.

Then there is the saga of the sitting ghost. He is more mysterious than the shade of Mad Anthony. He has no identity, and why he is haunting Valley Forge nobody knows. This ghost glides to the crest of road banks and to the top of hillocks and stays there, immobile, for hours on end, staring in supernatural melancholy at those who pass his way.

It was a Missourian (naturally) who raised the question of credibility of witnesses. Bob Huston, of Windsor, a member of jamboree troop 6, said he couldn't help but be skeptical about these stories. But he and his show-me friends quickly added that it was fun to listen to the stories, whether they had any germ of truth or were sheer fancy.

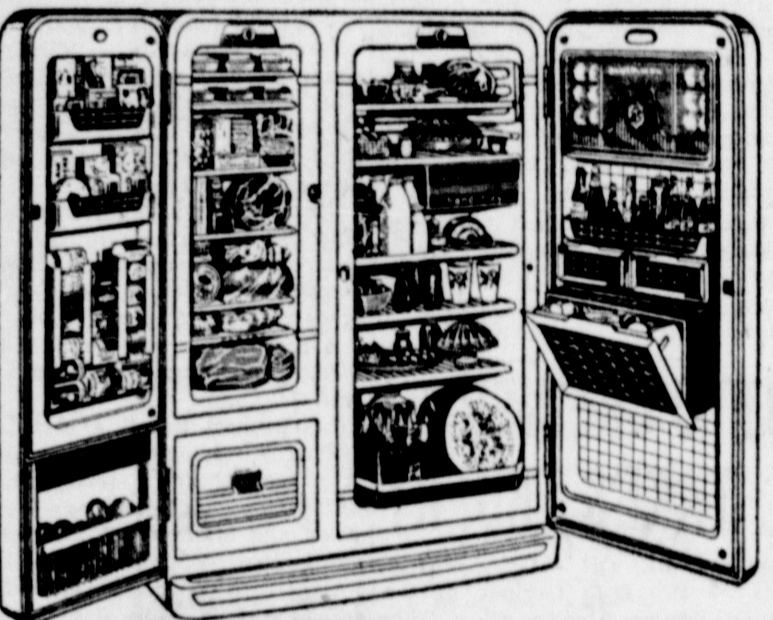

The scouts, on the whole, feel they are pretty well schooled in history. One big gathering therefore, was astonished to learn that many less knowledgeable visitors think Valley Forge is where Washington started his crossing of the Delaware. The Delaware River is a good 25-30 miles away. Even some of the younger scouts thought at first that Valley Forge was a battleground rather than a bitter winter camp.

The 10th president of the United States, John Tyler, had two wives. He had seven children by each.

CLAIMS CIVIL RIGHTS BILL IS "VOTING" BILL

WASHINGTON (P) — Sen. Ervin (D-NC) said today he sees "a good chance" to reduce the administration's civil rights bill "to what its supporters have been trying to advertise it to be—namely, a voting rights bill."

While Ervin and other Southern senators expressed confidence they were gaining ground, they are likely to run into an increasing counterattack from supporters of the House-passed bill once the preliminary skirmishing is ended.

So far the Senate debate, now entering its seventh day, has been technically on a motion of Senate Republican Leader Knowland of California to take the bill off the calendar and bring it up for action.

This is to be voted on late tomorrow, and even the bill's all-out foes concede the motion will carry.

Hot Action Ahead
Once this happens and the Senate turns to actual consideration of the bill and proposed amendments, proponents plan to jump into the debate. To date, in the interest of time, they have been largely content to leave the speech-making to Southern foes of the bill.

The measure, passed by the House last month, would establish a six-member commission to study civil rights problems, and create a special civil rights division within the attorney general's office.

Another part, designated Section 3, would permit the attorney general to obtain federal court injunctions against violations, or threatened violations, of voting rights and other civil rights instead of having to rely on criminal prosecutions.

Persons accused of defying the injunctions could be convicted and jailed for contempt of court without a jury trial.

Still another section makes similar provisions specifically limited to voting rights.

Sen. Russell (D-Ga.), leader of the Dixie forces, offered an amendment Saturday to rip out the whole of Section 3. He and other opponents contend that section is aimed at forcing racial integration in Southern schools and other public places with the use of federal troops if necessary.

Later in the day Sen. Mundt (R-SD) announced he would offer a substitute for the House-passed bill that would strike out Section 3 and provide for jury trials when issues of fact were involved in contempt cases growing out of the enforcement of voting rights. Mundt said his substitute was designed as "a measure the Southerners can't vote for, but one with which they can live."

Levittown Citizens Meet To End Hazards

LEVITTOWN, Pa. (P)—The head of a citizens "emergency committee" last night called for state legislation to eliminate safety hazards of open quarry pits.

The committee hopes to remedy the situation which cost the lives of three Levittown children last Tuesday.

Louis J. Nemetz, chairman of the Thornridge Citizens' Emergency Committee issued a call to people from over all the Delaware Valley to attend a meeting of his group Wednesday in the Manor School at Levittown.

"This is a 'help wanted' meeting," Nemetz said. "We are asking not only the people from Thornridge and Levittown, but people from everywhere who have lived near these dangerous open places. Perhaps a state law is the answer to the problem."

Caught Cat Claws Helpful Rescuers

LISBON, Ohio (P)—Maybe Mrs. William Vaughn and her neighbor Robert Adkins in East Liverpool didn't invent washing machines, but as far as Hector, the Persian cat is concerned, they share responsibility.

Hector's tail got caught in the gears of Mrs. Vaughn's washing machine. When she tried to free him, Hector let her have it with his claws. Then Adkins tried. Same result.

O. E. Scott, city dog warden, finally got Hector loose. From past experience, Scott uses leather gloves.

James MARLOW Reports

The Associated Press

WASHINGTON (P)—The era of free-wheeling congressional investigations of communism apparently is at an end.

Twice in this century, each time after a world war, this country has gone through an emotional Red-hunting phase. The first petered out. The second was slowing down and the courts put a further brake on it.

Atty. Gen. A. Mitchell Palmer led the Red raids after World War I, when this country was worried about the spread of communism.

Congressional committees resumed the Red hunting on a big scale after World War II.

The committees became increasingly free-wheeling.

The Red-hunting began to recede after the Senate condemned some actions of the late Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) although not specifically his tactics in Red-hunting.

Blocked By Court

Last month the Supreme Court said whoa to the committees. Taking his cue from this, Federal Dist. Judge Luther A. Youngdahl said the same thing last week.

The high court threw out the contempt of Congress conviction of John T. Watkins, who told the House Committee on Un-American Activities he had never been a Communist but, for a while, cooperated with Communists.

He talked freely about himself but balked at questions about people he knew who might have been Communists. Youngdahl threw out the same kind of conviction against Seymour Peck, New York newspaperman.

He told the Senate Internal Security subcommittee he once had been a Communist but he refused to discuss past associates.

"Fishing Expeditions"

Neither man claimed the protection of the Fifth Amendment against self-incrimination. Both relied on the First Amendment's protection of free speech, opinion and association. Battered down, their position was this: the committees' questions about people they knew in the past were fishing expeditions, serving no public purpose.

The rulings of the Supreme Court and of Youngdahl said in effect: If such committees in the future expect to get people convicted for contempt of Congress, because they refuse to answer questions, then:

Probe Is Limited

1. Congress must say precisely what the committees are supposed to be investigating. Right now the authorization given them is so broad it's like a hunting license for shooting in any direction.

2. When the committees ask questions — and want a witness convicted for not answering — they must ask questions pertinent to the inquiry they're making.

Youngdahl further made the point that refusal to answer under the First Amendment questions which seem to intrude on privacy is not an absolute right. For instance, it must be weighed against national security, when that security is really involved.

But congressional investigations that violate the protection of the First Amendment, when national security or the public welfare is not involved, are something else again.

KNOWLAND IS USING OFFICE FOR 1960 BID

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (P)—Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) apparently has seized on the civil rights controversy in the Senate as offering an issue that might make him the Republican presidential nominee in 1960.

Knowland, the Senate Republican leader, said last night he will announce next fall whether he intends to seek the Republican nomination for governor of California. He had announced previously he would not run for re-election to the Senate next year.

Knowland said he has arranged tentatively to make 45 speeches in all sections of California after Congress quits.

Although Knowland declined to say whether he had made any decision, friends think he already has made up his mind to take on Republican Gov. Goodwin J. Knight for the GOP nomination for governor in next year's California primary.

Defies Announcement

Knowland said he would have some announcement after he has traveled over California for about 30 days next fall. If he runs for the governorship, the supposition is that he will be attempting to place himself in a position to bid for the presidential nomination two years later.

Perhaps with this in mind, Knowland has taken the leadership in efforts to get the House-passed civil rights bill before the Senate. His motion to bring the measure up officially is scheduled for a vote late tomorrow, with every indication that it will be carried.

By stepping into the civil rights fight, Knowland is identifying himself with an issue that comes home to the voters in politically vital sections of the country.

Knowland was in the position last year of trying to run for the nomination without any widely appealing issue behind him. His strength lay primarily with conservative Southern and Midwestern Republican delegations.

By his civil rights stand, he probably sacrificed the prospective convention support of Southern GOP delegates.

He would be gambling, however, on more than offsetting this in increased strength among Northern and Western delegations interested in having a candidate who would appeal to the possibly decisive minority vote in their states.

STATE HEAD OF VFW WILL VISIT PENNSY POSTS

HARRISBURG (AP) — William J. Tepsic of Pittsburgh, the new commander of the Pennsylvania Department of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, made plans today for visits to all state VFW posts during his term of office.

Tepsic, who succeeded Morton Fromm of Lock Haven at the department's annual encampment ended yesterday, announced the intended visits to the organization's Council of Administration. There are more than 700 posts throughout the state.

Tepsic advanced to commander from senior vice commander without opposition. Dr. John C. Caverdine of Hop Bottom moved from junior vice commander to senior vice commander.

One Contested Office
For the one contested office, the delegates named John J. Piparato of Easton to be junior vice commander. Piparato, state inspector the past four years, won on the second ballot after a race with seven other candidates. Leonard R. Santore of Greensboro was the seventh candidate to withdraw.

Winners in Saturday's VFW parade were: Bands, Uniontown, $150; rifle team, Grove City, $100; senior drum and bugle corps, Youngwood, $100; junior drill team, Gladiators, Philadelphia, $50; largest band, Newport, $50; most novel, Kitties, York, $50; and largest uniformed group, Garden Spot Post, Lancaster, $50.

SAFETY GROUP GETS $175,000 FOR EXPANSION

CHICAGO—The National Safety Council today received a grant of approximately $175,000 a year from the Automobile Manufacturers Association, the Association of Casualty and Surety Companies and the National Association of Independent Insurers.

The money is being contributed to finance expansion of the council's activity in the formation and service of state and local safety councils.

Creation and strengthening of such state and local citizen groups to support public officials in bringing about greater traffic safety was the objective of the four regional conferences sponsored last year by the President's Committee for Traffic Safety.

The funds were presented to the council through the joint Automobile and Insurance Industries Committee on Highway Safety, and were accepted for the Council by Gen. George C. Stewart, its executive vice president.

"These funds," said Gen. Stewart, "will enable the council to approximately double its present field service staff of 10 men."

"It also will make it possible for the council to comply with the many requests for aid in forming and improving state and local citizen safety groups that we have been unable to meet with our present limited personnel."

"We will begin immediately to recruit and train additional personnel to provide the expanded services to state and local safety councils envisioned in this grant."

Gen. Stewart said the funds provided by the grant will be used on the national level, and do not reduce the need for funds provided on the state and local level for the actual formation and maintenance of citizen safety organizations.

"Without more and more such state and community groups working continuously and energetically to meet the traffic accident problem, there is little or no chance that the traffic toll will ever be reduced to any substantial degree," he said.

At the present time the council said, there are approximately 250 local safety organizations in the nation. These groups encourage more effective official programs, including police supervision, traffic engineering, driver licensing improved and uniform legislation, and public education.

Each of the donor groups is active in conducting safety programs of its own and in supporting and encouraging the safety efforts of other groups. The Automobile Manufacturers Association is composed of the nation's leading manufacturers of motor vehicles. The Association of Casualty and Surety Companies represents 140 capital stock companies writing casualty insurance and surety coverages, and the National Association of Independent Insurers represents 291 independent companies writing casualty insurance and surety coverages.

10 Are Killed In Highway Mishaps

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Seventeen persons—the youngest 10 months and the eldest in the middle 60s—were overtaken by accidental death in Pennsylvania at the weekend.

As usual, the heaviest toll was from the automobile. Ten lives were lost that way.

Three persons drowned. A man and a woman burned to death in separate tragedies. A fall from a roof took one life, and a strange accident caused the other non-traffic fatality. A 35-year-old Philadelphia woman unable to find a key for a building she wanted to enter, thrust her right arm through a glass door. She died from loss of blood.

AIRPORT WILL BE IMPROVED

HARRISBURG (AP) — Adj. Gen. Anthony J. Drexel Biddle Jr. said today some $300,000 worth of improvements to Black Moshannon Airport near State College will be completed by late fall.

"We have been coming along well on plans for the extension of the runways and improvements to the lighting system at the airport and there is no doubt the project will be completed by late fall," Biddle said.

He explained that plans for the improvements have been turned over to the Pennsylvania Aeronautics Commission "and everything is in order."

"The federal government contributes to the project on a matching fund basis and the state and local communities also contribute," he said.

He said the plans drawn up by a Butler engineering firm have been approved and that the State Property and Supplies Department has been asked to call for bids on supplies and work.

"When this project is completed it will become one of the really outstanding air terminals in the mid-Atlantic area," Biddle said. He explained that upon completion of the project Allegheny Air Lines intends adding several new routes to its schedule.

He also pointed to the Curtis Wright research plant in the area as "a big factor to consider in enlarging this facility."

To Bury Aga Khan In Oriental Pomp

GENEVA (AP) — The late Aga Khan's body will be flown Wednesday to the Egyptian province of Assuan, where the Moslem leader will be buried in Oriental pomp amid scenic beauties he loved.

A family spokesman said the 20 million Ismaili Moslems will be accompanied by his widow the begum, his son Aly, and his grandson successor, Aga Khan IV. Twelve representatives of Ismaili communities in Africa, the Middle East, India and Pakistan will also go along.

The spokesman said the 79-year-

PUSH PLANS TO MERGE 2 STATE UNITS IN 1958

HARRISBURG (AP) — Gov. Leader started plans today for the merger of the Department of Welfare and the Department of Public Assistance by next June.

The new agency will be the Department of Public Welfare, consolidating the duties of both the present agencies.

Under a new law signed by the governor Saturday, he must first name an advisory board to complete the merger. Although he praised the bill as one that "opens the way for more efficient administration," it poses a special appointive problem for Leader.

To head the new agency, he must choose between Harry Shapiro, secretary of welfare, and Mrs. Ruth Grigg Horting, secretary of public assistance, or name a third person and let both Shapiro and Mrs. Horting go.

The governor has been high in praise for both department heads. The new department will have a budget of 350 million dollars, second highest for state agencies.

old leader's embalmed body will lie in state Tuesday and most of Wednesday at the lakeside villa where he died last week. It will leave late Wednesday in a chartered Swiss Airlines plane.

for the current two-year fiscal period. The merger must be completed by June 1 but may be done sooner.

Eligible for the advisory board are representatives of the two departments, the Legislature and other public organizations. The board is to complete the details of the merger.

As originally written by two Republicans, the bill would have abolished the Department of Welfare and transferred its duties to the Health and Justice departments. The measure was amended on the recommendation of the Justice Department.

Collector's Items Will Trouble Thief

RACINE, Wis. (AP) — Thieves who stole $1,353 from the safe at the Spinning Wheel cafe will have trouble spending $250 of the loot. Proprietor Charles Presta said the $250 represented old coins and old bills which are out of circulation. He said the collector's items included 50 commemorative half dollars from different states, some of them in odd shapes and sizes.

LEADER VETOES
LAND SALE BILL

HARRISBURG (AP)—Gov. Leader disapproved today the proposed sale of land purchased 16 years ago for a new executive mansion.

The property, situated at MacLay and North Fronts sts. with a 700-foot frontage on the Susquehanna River, was purchased for $185,000 in 1941. Two brownstone mansions on the property are now used by the Board of Parole as its central office.

In vetoing a bill that would have authorized the state to auction the land, the governor declared "it would be poor economy to sell the property and thus force the Board of Parole to seek other quarters in Harrisburg."

The San Francisco earthquake and fire, in which 452 lives were lost, happened in 1906.

The U.S. hot dog was first named by citizens of Frankfurt, Germany, as the frankfurter. Later they named in Vienna as wieners (or Vienna-crs). And in Hamburg they were called hamburgers.

Leader Signs Measure For Greater School Subsidies

HARRISBURG (AP)—Gov. Leader today signed a bill granting higher state subsidies to school districts.

The new law reimburses school boards for teacher salary increases ordered by the 1955 Legislature. Leader expressed the hope it would "alleviate some of the financial positions of the school districts."

Many of the state's 2,500 districts were hard pressed to find money for the pay raises when Leader vetoed a similar subsidy bill on June 1, 1956. He said then the money had not been made available by the Legislature.

Leader estimated the new subsidy measure, which survived a stormy five-month passage through the Legislature, would cost the state $33,099,519 for the current 1957-58 fiscal period. His estimate is more than a million dollars above the $31 1/2 million estimated by the Senate. It is close to three millions above the House estimate of $30,330,000.

The major provisions of the statute:

1. The maximum subsidy per teaching unit (22 high school pupils or 30 elementary pupils) for 1956-57 (payable by the state during 1957-58) is increased from $5,100 to $5,300. For the 1957-58 school year (payable 1958-59) the present $5,300 limit is increased to $5,800.

2. The local effort rate per teaching unit is increased from 4 mills to 4 3/4 mills for the 1957-58 school year. This rate is an important part of a complex formula requiring school districts to raise money to qualify for state aid.

3. The maximum subsidy per unit for school transportation is stabilized at $5,100 for 1956-57 and 1957-58.

4. State reimbursement for teacher costs will be based upon either the actual instruction expense of the district or the maximum subsidy level—whichever is lower.

Another major provision permits school districts to revise their budgets for the 1956-57 and 1957-58 years if that is necessary to adjust receipts anticipated under the act. It also authorizes them to determine a district's right to state reimbursement.

Under the statute the district would have to submit the required reports on uniform forms prescribed by the department. State aid that is due could be withheld until the proper records were submitted to the department.

An appropriation of $200,000 was given the department for the auditing work.

Other New Laws
Permit any member of the School Employees Retirement System who has served as an administrator, teacher or instructor in a government education agency in a country outside the jurisdiction of the United States for at least one year to purchase retirement credit for such service.

Authorize the State Board for Vocational Education, in cooperation with county and district superintendents, industrial, labor and lay representatives, to formulate and adopt a statewide plan for area vocational schools.

Repeal specific authority for county boards of school directors to establish vocational schools.

Specify that the treasurers of third class cities should be paid annual salaries for collection of city, county, institution, district and school taxes with salary to be fixed before election by taxing authorities other than the institution district.
